Whatever your reason for being here today, the first step to making change has already begun. Many people are curious about how hypnosis can help them transform their lives and have questions about what exactly hypnosis is. Hypnosis is a very natural state of selectively focused attention. It is a fascinating phenomenon of the human mind. Your ability to enter this unique state of consciousness opens the door to countless possibilities for healing, self-exploration and change. Nearly everyone can be Hypnotised and despite what some think, it is a comfortable and relaxed state where you still have control and can stop at any time. It's important to remember that your unconscious mind sits on top of your thoughts and feelings and decides what you should notice. I think of it as a 'rule book'. 		allows me to change the rules of your thinking before you even begin to think. So the way you automatically feel about something instantly changes because the rules have changed. I am absolutely fascinated with the way your behaviour CAN CHANGE after a hypnosis session. Every day, I witness examples of things that were once impossible becoming possible with hypnosis. When we enter into the adsorbed state of hypnosis, we can use our thoughts, talents and experiences in ways not usually accessible to us. My skills as a hypnotist and as a Master Neuro-Linguistic Programmer or (NLP), allow me to develop and suggest abilities and resources that enable you to make the desired changes in your thoughts, feelings and behaviours. All of which happens automatically in your unconscious. I've refined this process over time and now refer to it as the Fast Logic System. The Fast Logic System has been used for so many reasons and by so many people. Typically, in everyday practice, I assist people with addictions (smoking, drugs, alcohol and gambling), weight problems, anxiety, panic attacks, depression, phobias, pain, confusion and a lack of motivation or self-esteem.
