Back then, my setup was really simple. An ASUS B250 Mining Expert with Pentium G4400, 8GB of RAM, 2 PSU (Coolermaster 700w as well as a V1200W PSU)	Internal	Passing Juice
Placed this entire setup on a DIY metal shelf	Internal	Passing Juice
Bought extra 2 GTX 1060 3GB on my Ryzen 7 1700 setup back then. Mining Monero too on Cryptonight Algo. Really profitable on these 2 rigs combined. Earning approximately 35USD per day at the peak :)	Internal	Passing Juice
Without much experience back then, my overclocking skills sucks. I was drawing a ton of power with very little efficiency. However, at that point I was literally making few hundreds every month. It has been a really wonderful journey until bear market hits.	Internal	Passing Juice
If you still remember the dreadful hack of Nicehash. One morning I woke up seeing that my rig was no longer mining. Saw my balance turned to zero. And the moment I saw this article, my heart sank. With over 100 USD inside my account that point, I knew I wouldnt be able to pay for my electric that month. This pulled down my confidence but quite a little.	Internal	Passing Juice
Still remember Bitconnect? Hahahaha well entered into this ponzi scheme too. Invested 100 USD into this, got it back and	Internal	Passing Juice donated the money.

Disconnected my entire rig... It was a pretty sad moment :(")	Internal	Passing Juice
My house became cooler, quieter and my power usage instantly went down.	Internal	Passing Juice
Kept 1 GTX 1070ti & 1 GTX 1060 3GB and built myself a Ryzen 7 gaming computer hehe.	Internal	Passing Juice
It all started with my small mining rig of one ZOTAC GTX 1070ti as well as an ASUS B250 Mining Expert which I was using to mine Ethereum at 33MH/s, get paid 0.05eth approximately every 2 weeks on 2miners.com	Internal	Passing Juice
Purchased 2 more GTX 1070ti, bringing my total hashrate to 130MH/s.	Internal	Passing Juice
Revamped & Redesigned into a DIY rig. Didnt wanna spend the money to find a frame hehe decided to use my mums shoe rack instead HAHAAHAH	Internal	Passing Juice
4 Gigabyte RX 570, 1 Sapphire RX 570, 5 P106-100 6GB	Internal	Passing Juice
With all the skills and experience I have accumulated in 2017, I began redesigning my entire 10 GPU setup. This was the end product of my 10 GPU mining rig consisting of 5 NVIDIA P106-100 6GB cards as well as 5 AMD RX 570 8GB cards. Working fine alongside with one another as claimed by ASUS.	Internal	Passing Juice
Got 8 ZOTAC P106-100 6GB (2 not in photo) for test. PERFECT CONDITION and I cant believe the speed I was getting in Ethereum. 450MH/S for 18x P106-100 6GB	Internal	Passing Juice
Managed to achieve 35.9MH @ 124w. Bringing my total GPU to 19.	Internal	Passing Juice
The screen all miners with B250s love to see :)	Internal	Passing Juice
The entire setup of my 19 GPU rig. Fan is blowing at single direction, expelling all the hot air towards my door exit. Keeping my living room relatively cool.	Internal	Passing Juice
Underclocked my rig to 466MH for better stability and power draw. Has been running fine for 2 weeks without any manual interventions.	Internal	Passing Juice
Bought a HP 1200w PSU. Placed a 120mm fan on top of it to keep it cool. In case if you are asking how loud is it, actually its pretty quiet. I have only used 600w, half of the capacity. Hence, under full load I am not sure how loud it will be.	Internal	Passing Juice
