		strive for it, and try to protect it all cost. The biggest reason for worries and stress along with food and survival is the loss of love. When children are out of sight, parents not only worry about their well-being; they fear about their own love loss as well. If the individual to individual connection happens, it will be a start of the change from the bottom up. The top down philosophy has not worked in thousands of years and it would not work in the next thousand year. Especially in the presence of the politics of sense of belonging to our groups. Things would stay the same but if we connect and belong to humanity as a whole that can change everything. As individuals we would have to take that next leap of faith and join our hands together to join humanity as a whole. Sticking with our color, race, gender nation or religion has been and still is prejudicial, discriminatory and against equal human individual rights. Don't forget they have created a horrible picture of humanity so its time to bring this all at the individual level but with the strength of a CEO.
